Innovation can be simply defined as a "new idea, creative thoughts, new imaginations in form of device or method". However, innovation is often also viewed as the application of better solutions that meet new requirements, unarticulated needs, or existing market needs. Such innovation takes place through the provision of more-effective products, processes, services, technologies, or business ...

1.. Introduction How does openness influence firms' ability to innovate and appropriate benefits of innovation? These questions lie at the heart of recent research on innovation (e.g. Chesbrough, 2003a, Helfat, 2006, Laursen and Salter, 2006a). Their answers require a conceptual frame that defines and classifies different dimensions of openness.
